HAGANAH CLAIMS
TWO SUCCESSFUL
COUNTER-ATTACKS*Against Arab Forces in Jerusalem and Gaza
Areas*SEE STIFF ACTION*Such is Reported from Both North and South of Holy Land

By Sarya Shapiro
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
TEL AVIV, STATE OF ISRAEL, May 25—(INS)—Haganah, army of the State of Israel, claimed two successful counter-attacks today against Arab forces in the Jerusalem and Gaza areas.

Stiff battle action was reported from both the north and south of the Holy Land despite United Nations efforts to halt the warfare.

(Dispatches from Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, said that Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah is expected to meet again today with Arab leaders for further discussion of the U. N. cease-fire appeal.)

All indications from Jerusalem are that troops of the Trans-Jordan Arab legion are battering beleaguered Jews in the old city without let-up.

A Haganah communique said that Jewish forces successfully counter-attacked Egyptian troops besieging the Yad Mordechai settlement, some eight miles north of Gaza, declaring:

"Our forces attacked advanced Egyptian posts during the night.
Several Egyptians were killed or wounded. A Jewish unit broke through the Egyptian lines surrounding the settlement."

(In Cairo Egyptian Army headquarters declared that its forces stormed strong Zionist fortresses around Dier Suneid, just north of Gaza. It added that the "enemy was overwhelmed" after a nine-hour battle in which the Jews suffered 500 dead.)

The Jews declared that other Arab forces were repulsed successfully at the settlement of Ramat Rachel, five miles southeast of Jerusalem in 48-hours of fighting in which it was admitted that the Arabs destroyed half of the settlement.

Haganah claimed that in constant heavy fighting Jews seized a "large quantity" of Arab arms.

In the northern fighting area, just

GIVEN SIX MONTHS AND MUST PAY FINE

Robert Buckley Kerr Is Convicted of Drunken Driving

ASKED FOR LENIENCY

DOYLESTOWN, May 25 — Former Naval Air Corps Lieut. Commander Robert Buckley Kerr, 33, of Butler, who was formerly stationed at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Willow Grove, was sentenced by President Judge Hiram H. Keller in criminal court, here, yesterday, to pay a fine of $100 and serve not less than six months nor more than three years in the County Prison.

Kerr, who now operates a gasoline service station in Pittsburgh, was convicted of two charges, drunken driving and involuntary manslaughter by a jury which recommended "extreme leniency" in December, 1947. The jury contained six men and six women and deliberated less than two hours after a trial of several days.

The World War II naval air officer, who served six years in the service, drove a car which, on March 6, struck Kenneth Hayter, 43, of Barnes road, Warrington.
Hayter died in the Abington Hospital.

"There is no point in giving a lecture in this case," President Judge Keller said. "Nothing we can do or say will bring Mr. Hayter back. You are getting about half-six months—of what you would have received if the jury hadn't recommended extreme leniency when they convicted you."

William A. Gray, Philadelphia attorney, flanking the defendant, standing before the Court, said:
"Never have I known a stronger plea that was made by the jury in behalf of this defendant when they asked that he be shown extreme leniency."

Webster S. Achey, who quietly walked to the front of the bar, said:
"There is no one to speak in behalf of the widow and the eight-year-old child and I feel that it is my duty to speak for them."

"This man has never even been to see Mrs. Hayter, the widow, or the child who has been left fatherless. The matter of leniency is one for the Court to decide, but I feel sorry for this widow and fatherless son."

Replying to Mr. Achey's plea, counsel for the defendant, Mr. Gray remarked that as always in these

FEASTERTOWN MURDER TRIAL GETS UNDERWAY WITH SELECTION OF JURORS TO TRY 2 OF 4 YOUTHFUL DEFENDANTS

Jury Selection Makes Slow Progress Because of Challenges

ONLY SIX CHOSEN

Case Being Heard Before Judge Calvin S. Boyer
In Court One

DOYLESTOWN, May 25 — The Feastertown Tavern murder cases got underway yesterday in Bucks County Criminal Court.

Four youthful Philadelphians are charged with the murder of William Kelly, 38, of Treviso, who was shot on the night of Dec. 22, 1947, and died several days later.

Only two of the defendants charged with the murder will go on trial this term.

They are 18-year-old, red-headed Harry Zeltz, of Oakland st., Phila., who allegedly fired the shot that fatally injured Kelly; and Harold Foster, 23, of Teasdale st., Phila.

The other two defendants, David Darcy, 22, and Felix Capone, 16, will be tried at a later term of court.

The case is being tried before Judge Calvin S. Boyer in No. 1 Court Room.

Zeltz is being defended by Attorney I. Louis Rubin, Bristol, while Attorneys Donald Smith, Perkaste, and William Freed, Jr., Quaker-town, are defending Foster. The Commonwealth's case is being prosecuted by District Attorney, Edward G. Heister.

Zeltz, dressed in a dark suit, and wearing his military discharge bu-ton on his coat lapel; and Foster, also neatly dressed in a dark suit, were brought into court by two State troopers — Corporal Harold Dando and Trooper Leland Emory.

Other guards and sheriff's deputies were stationed nearby as Zeltz and Foster were arraigned before the bar of the court.

The defendants were two of the four who held up the Feastertown Tavern on Dec. 22 and after a robbery of inn patrons eluded police after first firing a shot outside the tavern — the shot that allegedly caused Kelly's death.

All jurors were withdrawn from the court room at 11 a. m. and the long ordeal of examining the jurors individually got underway as one juror at a time was called in.

John E. Wright, 26, yardley farmer, was the first juror examined.
He was followed by Manassah B.
Barndt, 69, Sellersville salesman.

District Attorney Heister examined the first juror drawn as to his health, age, occupation, or whether he had formed any opinion in the case.

"I read the story in the newspapers but I could render an opinion according to the evidence as presented."

"I do not believe in capital punishment."

Wright was challenged by the Commonwealth because of his objection to death penalty.

Manassah Barndt told the defense attorney that he was not in good health, and was excused.

Titus Heiger, Quakertown R. D. carpenter, was the third juror called. He had his own Bible in his hand when asked to be sworn, and

KEEP THAT FIRE WATCH!

All this talk about whether the White House is safe from fire, or not, is beginning to get under our skin. The inspection committee of the National Fire Protection Association has made an informal report. Just a once-over.
We won't hear all the details until September, when the committee is going to get to work in earnest. The Trumans expect to be vacationing then—no politics, you know—and the inspectors won't have to knock before entering a bedroom.

Somewhat they report that concern for the safety of the Trumans and "irreplaceable Americana" is justified. There are all sorts of hollow walls—especially at the
"corners" of the oval rooms on all three floors. These spaces might become flues in case of fire. The open stairways are the only exits
from the upper part of the house.

"It is evident," said the chairman of the inspecting group, "that the White House facilities are not adequate to insure life safety under emergency conditions—such as when a large reception is on."

The inspectors did say that the whole building was "immaculate."
They didn't run white gloves over the woodwork and look for smudges in the Navy way, but they could find no trash in the cellar that might catch fire. The house staff and servants seemed to be on the job as fire-watchers.

What is that story about Dolly Madison and that White House fire during the war of 1812? The British set fire to the building in 1814 and much damage resulted.
Dolly, bless her, helped save some portraits with her own pretty hands, if we remember correctly.
Let's hope that all possible safeguards will be embodied in the grand old mansion without delay.
We don't want any more fires
there.

TWO HARDY SOULS

Defiance of any law, be it a city council's ordinance or an act of Congress, rarely gets the rebel
anything but a modicum of publicity. In the case of Vivian Kel-lems, the spirited Connecticut manufacturer, it got her a depleted bank account as the government moved in and took her money. In the case of Frank Fee, Hutchinson, Kans., real estate
man, it got him in jail.

In both of these instances there is a thread of similarity and both
of them will strike a faint chord of sympathy in the public. Miss Kellems refused to take withholding taxes out of her employees' wages, regarding this as both a nuisance and unconstitutional.
Fee strode off to his incarceration because he felt his rights as a car owner were infringed by installation of parking meters and he refused to deposit his nickel.

An architect, after studying the structure, says he doesn't understand what holds up the White House. The taxpayers.

The coal strike cost the nation 53,000,000 tons of coal. And just when it was getting up steam for all out industrial production.

hen volunteered that he was not
in favor of capital punishment.
Deiger said he was a Baptist by faith, and that he does not believe in the death penalty under any circumstances.

The Commonwealth's challenge
for cause was sustained.
Oswin M. Nace, 73, of Sellersville, retired, was the fourth juror examined. He told the court that his hearing is 10 per cent impaired.
He was excused.

George S. Schmell, 54, a Plum-stead township farmer, and fifth juror examined, said his Mennonite faith would not permit his conscience to impose the death penalty.
He was challenged for cause.

Mrs. Fannie H. Acuff, 65, Langhorne housewife, sixth juror examined, and the first woman called.
The defendant Foster challenged
peremptorily.

A New Hope automobile dealer
was selected as the foreman of the jury just before Monday noon adjournment. He is Alvin B. Worthington, the eleventh juror questioned.

From New Hope, the second juror, George S. Havens, a farmer, was accepted by both sides.

William K. Nice, Hatfield foreman, was excused because of conscientious scruples, as were a number of others before him.

No. 3 juror is a Warrington housewife, Mrs. Mildred M. Holbert, wife of Howard Holbert, a purchasing agent. The mother of 3 children, Mrs. Holbert said she has no objection to the death penalty.

A sacro-iliac condition that has been bothering him and may become aggravated as a result of lengthy confinement, excused Walter Kuernerle, retired Andalusia resident.

Mrs. Mabel L. Weiss, 54, wife of a prominent Warmisthorpe florist, and the 22nd to be examined, said the only objection that she has to serving on the jury is that "her husband needs her very badly at home to help in the greenhouse." The Commonwealth exercised a peremptory challenge.

The fourth juror accepted was Forest Grove farmer, C. Raymond Dager.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Luff, Richboro housewife, was challenged peremptorily by the Commonwealth.

The fifth juror accepted was Mrs.
Augusta Gill, Bristol housewife.

Mrs. Lillian Harris, of Andalusia, was excused for cause, by the Commonwealth, after she objected to the death penalty. She said she
"didn't like it."

Mrs. Catharine W. Daniser, of Yardley, was the 35th juror examined and the last called before adjournment Monday afternoon,
and was selected as the sixth juror.

Haganah Claims Two Successful Counter-Attacks

below the Sea of Galilee, Haganah announced that Jewish forces have recaptured the settlements of Shaar Hagolan and Maissada.

From Jerusalem, Jewish sources
reported that Arabs failed in an attempt to advance from the Damascus gate in the Sheikh Jarrah area of northwest Jerusalem into
the center of the city.

Other dispatches from the Holy City said that in the bitter war of attrition being waged there destruction threatens the greater part of Jerusalem.

Bitter house-to-house fighting is reported in progress in the modern
part of the city.

Haganah reported that the Arabs
for the first time yesterday employed twin-engined bombers against Arab city of Jaffa. It was said that their positions in the formerly all-Arab bombs, ironically, hit and damaged a mosque.

Three bombs also were dropped north of the Tel Aviv area in the first aerial assault in the vicinity of the provisional Israeli capital in 50 hours.

Considerable air activity by Jewish planes was announced.
The communiqué said that Arab military objectives in the Majdal area, 15 miles north of Gaza, were attacked.

It claimed that Jewish planes also bombed the village of Pk, in side Syrian territory as well as the villages of Tel El Kassar and Labia.

"That's why I made the sentence
up to three years so that he will have to comply with the Pennsylvania State Board of Pardons which has jurisdiction in his part of the State and we do not," Judge Keller ruled.

Before the defendant was led away, Mr. Gray made a plea that the sentence be made not less than six months nor more than 25 months so that pardon or probation would fall under the jurisdiction of the Bucks county court authorities.

CORNWELLS MAN RESCUED

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 25

—Raymond E. Katzmar, State road, was among those rescued when the cabin Cruiser "Squirt" capsized on Saturday at Manasquan Inlet, N. J., throwing 34 persons into the water, with loss of at least two lives. The party was made up mostly of employees of the Heintz Mfg. Co., Philadelphia, who planned to spend the day fishing for mackerel. Mr. Katz-mar states he was caught under the boat together with an older man, when it capsized. Fighting his way out, and helping the other man who evidently had been hurt, he made his way from under the boat and
held on to a portion of it with one hand, supporting the hurt man with the other. Mr. Katzmar said he must have "blacked out" for a second, and his hands were numb with cold, because suddenly he realized
the man had slipped from his grasp.
He states that by the time the rescue boat arrived, he was not able to help himself aboard, due to cold, weakness and cut and bruised hands. He was taken into the boat and then to the coast guard station at Manasquan Inlet Station, where they were treated for shock and cold and given dry clothes. Mr.
Katzmar had difficulty extricating himself from under the boat, as a mackerel hook had caught him in the back.

KEEP THAT FIRE WATCH!

All this talk about whether the White House is safe from fire,
or not, is beginning to get under
our skin. The inspection committee of the National Fire Protection Association has made an informal report. Just a once-over.
We won't hear all the details until September, when the committee is going to get to work in earnest. The Trumans expect to
be vacationing then—no politics,
you know—and the inspectors
won't have to knock before entering a bedroom.

Somewhat they report that concern for the safety of the Trumans
and "irreplaceable Americana" is
justified. There are all sorts of hollow walls—especially at the
"corners" of the oval rooms on all three floors. These spaces might
become flues in case of fire. The
open stairways are the only exits
from the upper part of the house.

"It is evident," said the chairman of the inspecting group, "that
the White House facilities are not
adequate to insure life safety under emergency conditions—such
as when a large reception is on."

The inspectors did say that the
whole building was "immaculate."
They didn't run white gloves over
the woodwork and look for
smudges in the Navy way, but
they could find no trash in the cellar that might catch fire. The
house staff and servants seemed
to be on the job as fire-watchers.

What is that story about Dolly
Madison and that White House
fire during the war of 1812? The British set fire to the building in 1814 and much damage resulted.
Dolly, bless her, helped save some
portraits with her own pretty
hands, if we remember correctly.
Let's hope that all possible safe-
guards will be embodied in the
grand old mansion without delay.
We don't want any more fires
there.

TWO HARDY SOULS

Defiance of any law, be it a city
council's ordinance or an act of Congress, rarely gets the rebel
anything but a modicum of publicity. In the case of Vivian Kel-
lems, the spirited Connecticut manufacturer, it got her a deplect-
ed bank account as the government moved in and took her money. In the case of Frank Fee, Hutchinson, Kans., real estate
man, it got him in jail.

In both of these instances there
is a thread of similarity and both
of them will strike a faint chord
of sympathy in the public. Miss Kellems refused to take withholding taxes out of her employees'
wages, regarding this as both a
nuisance and unconstitutional.

Fee strode off to his incarceration
because he felt his rights as a
car owner were infringed by in-
stallation of parking meters and
he refused to deposit his nickel.

An architect, after studying the
structure, says he doesn't understand what holds up the White House. The taxpayers.

The coal strike cost the nation 53,000,000 tons of coal. And just
when it was getting up steam for
all out industrial production.

hen volunteered that he was not
in favor of capital punishment, floger said he was a Baptist by
faith, and that he does not believe
in the death penalty under any circumstances.

The Commonwealth's challenge
for cause was sustained.
Oswin M. Naze, 73, of Sellersville, retired, was the fourth juror examined. He told the court that his
hearing is 40 per cent impaired.
He was excused.

George S. Schmell, 54, a Plum-
stead township farmer, and fifth
juror examined, said his Mennonite
faith would not permit his con-
science to impose the death penalty.
He was challenged for cause.

Mrs. Fannie H. Acuff, 65, Lang-
horne housewife, sixth juror examined, said the first woman called.
The defendant Foster challenged
peremptorily.

A New Hope automobile dealer
was selected as the foreman of the
jury just before Monday noon adjournment. He is Alvin B. Worthington, the eleventh juror questioned.

From New Hope, the second juror, George S. Havens, a farmer, was
accepted by both sides.

William K. Nice, Hatfield fore-
man, was excused because of conscientious scruples, as were a number of others before him.

No. 3 juror is a Warrington
housewife, Mrs. Mildred M. Holbert,
wife of Howard Holbert, a purchasing agent. The mother of 3
children, Mrs. Holbert said she has
no objection to the death penalty.

A sacro-iliac condition that has
been bothering him and may be-
come aggravated as a result of
lengthy confinement, excused Walter Kuerner, retired Andalusia
resident.

Mrs. Mabel L. Weiss, 54, wife of a prominent Warminster florist, and the 22nd to be examined, said the only objection that she has to serving on the jury is that "her husband needs her very badly at home to
help in the greenhouse." The Commonwealth exercised a peremptory
challenge.

The fourth juror accepted was a Forest Grove farmer, C. Raymond
Dager.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Luff, Richboro housewife, was challenged peremptorily by the Commonwealth.

The fifth juror accepted was Mrs.
Augusta Gill, Bristol housewife.

Mrs. Lillian Harris, of Andalusia,
was excused for cause, by the Commonwealth, after she objected to
the death penalty. She said she
"didn't like it."

Mrs. Catharine W. Daner, of Yardley, was the 35th juror examined, and the last called before
adjournment Monday afternoon,
and was selected as the sixth juror.

below the Sea of Galilee, Haganah
announced that Jewish forces have
recaptured the settlements of Shaar Hagolan and Massada.

From Jerusalem, Jewish sources
reported that Arabs failed in an attempt to advance from the Da-
mascus gate in the Sheikh Jarrah
area of northwest Jerusalem into
the center of the city.

Other dispatches from the Holy City said that in the bitter war of
attrition being waged there destruction threatens the greater part of Jerusalem.

Bitter house-to-house fighting is
reported in progress in the modern
part of the city.

Haganah reported that the Arabs
for the first time yesterday employed twin-engined bombers against Arab city of Jaffa. It was said that
their positions in the formerly all-the Arab bombs, ironically, hit and damaged a mosque.

Three bombs also were dropped
north of the Tel Aviv area in the
first aerial assault in the vicinity
of the provisional Israeli capital
in 56 hours.

Considerable air activity by Jewish planes was announced.

The communiqué said that Arab
military objectives in the Majdal
area, 15 miles north of Gaza, were attacked.

It claimed that Jewish planes
also bombed the village of Pk, in-
side Syrian territory as well as the
villages of Tel El Kassar and Labia.

Before the defendant was led
away, Mr. Gray made a plea that the sentence be not less than six months nor more than 25 months
so that pardon or probation would
fall under the jurisdiction of the Bucks county court authorities.

"That's why I made the sentence
up to three years so that he will
have to comply with the Pennsylvania State Board of Pardons which
has jurisdiction in his part of the State and we do not," Judge Keller

the selling of the property, the corporation has moved its offices to the Medical Arts Building, 435 Radcliffe street, Bristol, where it will

CORNWELLS MAN RESCUED

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 25—
Raymond E. Katzmar, State road,
was among those rescued when the
cabin Cruiser "Squirt" capsized on Saturday at Manasquan Inlet, N. J.,
throwing 34 persons into the water,
with loss of at least two lives. The
party was made up mostly of employees of the Heintz Mfg. Co., Philadelphia, who planned to spend the day fishing for mackerel. Mr. Katz-
mar states he was caught under the
boat together with an older man,
when it capsized. Fighting his way
out, and helping the other man who
evidently had been hurt, he made
his way from under the boat and
held on to a portion of it with one
hand, supporting the hurt man with
the other. Mr. Katzmar said he must have "blacked out" for a second, and his hands were numb with
cold, because suddenly he realized
the man had slipped from his grasp.
He states that by the time the rescue boat arrived, he was not able to help himself aboard, due to cold,
weakness and cut and bruised
hands. He was taken into the boat
and then to the coast guard station
at Manasquan Inlet Station, where
they were treated for shock and
cold and given dry clothes. Mr.
Katzmar had difficulty extricating
himself from under the boat, as a
mackerel hook had caught him in
the back.

KEEP THAT FIRE WATCH!

All this talk about whether the White House is safe from fire, or not, is beginning to get under our skin. The inspection committee of the National Fire Protection Association has made an informal report. Just a once-over. We won't hear all the details until September, when the committee is going to get to work in earnest. The Trumans expect to be vacationing then—no politics, you know—and the inspectors won't have to knock before entering a bedroom.

Somberly they report that concern for the safety of the Trumans and "irreplaceable Americana" is justified. There are all sorts of hollow walls—especially at the "corners" of the oval rooms on all three floors. These spaces might become flues in case of fire. The open stairways are the only exits from the upper part of the house. "It is evident," said the chairman of the inspecting group, "that the White House facilities are not adequate to insure life safety under emergency conditions—such as when a large reception is on."

The inspectors did say that the whole building was "immaculate." They didn't run white gloves over the woodwork and look for smudges in the Navy way, but they could find no trash in the cellar that might catch fire. The house staff and servants seemed to be on the job as fire-watchers. What is that story about Dolly Madison and that White House fire during the war of 1812? The British set fire to the building in 1814 and much damage resulted. Dolly, bless her, helped save some portraits with her own pretty hands, if we remember correctly. Let's hope that all possible safeguards will be embodied in the grand old mansion without delay. We don't want any more fires there.

Defiance of any law, be it a city council's ordinance or an act of Congress, rarely gets the rebel anything but a modicum of publicity. In the case of Vivian Kellems, the spirited Connecticut manufacturer, it got her a depleted bank account as the government moved in and took her money. In the case of Frank Fee, Hutchinson, Kans., real estate man, it got him in jail.

In both of these instances there is a thread of similarity and both of them will strike a faint chord of sympathy in the public. Miss Kellems refused to take withholding taxes out of her employees' wages, regarding this as both a nuisance and unconstitutional. Fee strode off to his incarceration because he felt his rights as a car owner were infringed by installation of parking meters and he refused to deposit his nickel.

An architect, after studying the structure, says he doesn't understand what holds up the White House. The taxpayers.

The coal strike cost the nation 53,000,000 tons of coal. And just when it was getting up steam for all out industrial production,

Feasterville Murder Trial Gets Underway

Continued from Page One. hen volunteered that he was not in favor of capital punishment. Feiger said he was a Baptist by faith and that he does not believe in the death penalty under any circumstances.

The Commonwealth's challenge for cause was sustained. Owen M. Nace, 73, of Sellersville, retired, was the fourth juror examined. He told the court that his hearing is 40 per cent impaired. He was excused.

George S. Schmell, 54, a Plumstead township farmer, and fifth juror examined, said his Mennonite faith would not permit his concurrence to impose the death penalty. He was challenged for cause.

Mrs. Fannie H. Acuff, 65, Langhorne housewife, sixth juror examined and the first woman called. The defendant Foster challenged peremptorily.

A New Hope automobile dealer was selected as the foreman of the jury just before Monday noon adjournment. He is Alvin B. Worthington, the eleventh juror questioned.

From New Hope, the second juror, George S. Havens, a farmer, was accepted by both sides. William K. Nix, Hatfield foreman, was excused because of conscientious scruples, as were a number of others before him.

No. 3 juror is a Warrington housewife, Mrs. Mildred M. Holbert, wife of Howard Holbert, a purchasing agent. The mother of 3 children, Mrs. Holbert said she has no objection to the death penalty.

A sacro-lithic condition that has been bothering him and may become aggravated as a result of lengthy confinement, excused Walter Kuerner, retired Andalusia resident.

Mrs. Mabel L. Weiss, 54, wife of a prominent Warminster florist, and the 22nd to be examined, said the only objection that she has to serving on the jury is that "her husband needs her very badly at home to help in the greenhouse." The Commonwealth exercised a peremptory challenge.

The fourth juror accepted was a Forest Grove farmer, C. Raymond Dager.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Luff, Richboro housewife, was challenged peremptorily by the Commonwealth.

The fifth juror accepted was Mrs. Augusta Gill, Bristol housewife.

Mrs. Lillian Harris, of Andalusia, was excused for cause, by the Commonwealth, after she objected to the death penalty. She said she "didn't like it."

Mrs. Catharine W. Danser, of Yardley, was the 35th juror examined and the last called before adjournment Monday afternoon, and was selected as the sixth juror.

From Jerusalem, Jewish sources reported that Arabs failed in an attempt to advance from the Damascus gate in the Sheikh Jarrah area of northwest Jerusalem into the center of the city.

Other dispatches from the Holy City said that in the bitter war of attrition being waged there destruction threatens the greater part of Jerusalem.

Bitter house-to-house fighting is reported in progress in the modern part of the city. Haganah reported that the Arabs for the first time yesterday employed twin-engined bombers against Arab city of Jaffa. It was said that their positions in the formerly all-Arab bombs, ironically, hit and damaged a mosque.

Three bombs also were dropped north of the Tel Aviv area in the first aerial assault in the vicinity of the provisional Israeli capital in 56 hours.

Considerable air activity by Jewish planes was announced. The communiqué said that Arab military objectives in the Majdal area, 15 miles north of Gaza, were attacked.

It claimed that Jewish planes also bombed the village of Pih, inside Syrian territory as well as the villages of Tel El Kassar and Labia.

Before the defendant was led away, Mr. Gray made a plea that the sentence be made not less than six months nor more than 25 months so that pardon or probation would fall under the jurisdiction of the Bucks county court authorities.

"That's why I made the sentence up to three years so that he will have to comply with the Pennsylvania State Board of Pardons which has jurisdiction in his part of the State and we do not," Judge Keller ruled.

CORNWELLS MAN RESCUED

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 25.—Raymond E. Katzmar, State road, was among those rescued when the cabin Cruiser "Squirt" capsized on Saturday at Manasquan Inlet, N. J., throwing 34 persons into the water, with loss of at least two lives. The party was made up mostly of employees of the Heinz Mfg. Co., Philadelphia, who planned to spend the day fishing for mackerel. Mr. Katzmar states he was caught under the boat together with an older man, when it capsized. Fighting his way out, and helping the other man who evidently had been hurt, he made his way from under the boat and held on to a portion of it with one hand, supporting the hurt man with the other. Mr. Katzmar said he must have "blacked out" for a second, and his hands were numb with cold, because suddenly he realized the man had slipped from his grasp. He states that by the time the rescue boat arrived, he was not able to help himself aboard, due to cold, weakness and cut and bruised hands. He was taken into the boat and then to the coast guard station at Manasquan Inlet Station, where they were treated for shock and cold and given dry clothes. Mr. Katzmar had difficulty extricating himself from under the boat, as a mackerel hook had caught him in the back.

A Summary of The News

Continued from Page One. which he will make at least five major speeches. President Truman went to Congress a strong message urging the broadening of much of the base of the Social Security program. He reproved Congress for having ignored his previous recommendations in this field.

On application of the National Labor Relations Board, Justice Goldsborough ordered John L. Lewis and the miners' union to appear on June 1 and show cause why an injunction against them should not be issued. The board also urged Congress to abandon the union shop election procedure as hearings began on proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

There were two major appointments in the capital. Charles F. Brannan was named Secretary of Agriculture and Miss Frieda Hench was nominated for a seven-year term as member of the Federal Communications Commission, the first woman to be so honored.

KEEP THAT FIRE WATCH!

All this talk about whether the White House is safe from fire, or not, is beginning to get under our skin. The inspection committee of the National Fire Protection Association has made an informal report. Just a once-over. We won't hear all the details until September, when the committee is going to get to work in earnest. The Trumans expect to be vacationing then—no politics, you know—and the inspectors won't have to knock before entering a bedroom.

Southerly they report that concern for the safety of the Trumans and "irreplaceable Americana" is justified. There are all sorts of hollow walls—especially at the "corners" of the oval rooms on all three floors. These spaces might become flues in case of fire. The open stairways are the only exits from the upper part of the house. "It is evident," said the chairman of the inspecting group, "that the White House facilities are not adequate to insure life safety under emergency conditions—such as when a large reception is on."

The inspectors did say that the whole building was "immaculate." They didn't run white gloves over the woodwork and look for smudges in the Navy way, but they could find no trash in the cellar that might catch fire. The house staff and servants seemed to be on the job as fire-watchers. What is that story about Dolly Madison and that White House fire during the war of 1812? The British set fire to the building in 1814 and much damage resulted. Dolly, bless her, helped save some portraits with her own pretty hands, if we remember correctly. Let's hope that all possible safeguards will be embodied in the grand old mansion without delay. We don't want any more fires there.

TWO HARDY SOULS

Defiance of any law, be it a city council's ordinance or an act of Congress, rarely gets the rebel anything but a modicum of publicity. In the case of Vivian Kellems, the spirited Connecticut manufacturer, it got her a depleted bank account as the government moved in and took her money. In the case of Frank Fee, Hutchinson, Kans., real estate man, it got him in jail.

In both of these instances there is a thread of similarity and both of them will strike a faint chord of sympathy in the public. Miss Kellems refused to take withholding taxes out of her employees' wages, regarding this as both a nuisance and unconstitutional. Fee strode off to his incarceration because he felt his rights as a car owner were infringed by installation of parking meters and he refused to deposit his nickel.

An architect, after studying the structure, says he doesn't understand what holds up the White House. The taxpayers.

The coal strike cost the nation 53,000,000 tons of coal. And just when it was getting up steam for all out industrial production.

then volunteered that he was not in favor of capital punishment. He said he was a Baptist by faith, and that he does not believe in the death penalty under any circumstances.

The Commonwealth's challenge for cause was sustained. Oswin M. Nae, 73, of Sellersville, retired, was the fourth juror examined. He told the court that his hearing is 40 per cent impaired. He was excused.

George S. Schmell, 54, a Plumstead township farmer, and fifth juror examined, said his Mennonite faith would not permit his conscience to impose the death penalty. He was challenged for cause.

Mrs. Fannie H. Acuff, 65, Langhorne housewife, sixth juror examined, and the first woman called. The defendant Foster challenged her.

A New Hope automobile dealer was selected as the foreman of the jury just before Monday noon adjournment. He is Alvin B. Worthington, the eleventh juror questioned.

From New Hope, the second juror, George S. Havens, a farmer, was accepted by both sides.

William K. Nice, Hatfield foreman, was excused because of conscientious scruples, as were a number of others before him.

No. 3 juror is a Warrington housewife, Mrs. Mildred M. Holbert, wife of Howard Holbert, a purchasing agent. The mother of 3 children, Mrs. Holbert said she has no objection to the death penalty.

A sacro-iliac condition that has been bothering him and may become aggravated as a result of lengthy confinement, excused Walter Kuemerle, retired Andalusia resident.

Mrs. Mabel L. Weiss, 54, wife of a prominent Warminster florist, and the 22nd to be examined, said the only objection that she has to serving on the jury is that "her husband needs her very badly at home to help in the greenhouse." The Commonwealth exercised a peremptory challenge.

The fourth juror accepted was a Forest Grove farmer, C. Raymond Dager.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Luff, Richboro housewife, was challenged peremptorily by the Commonwealth.

The fifth juror accepted was Mrs. Augusta Gill, Bristol housewife. Mrs. Lillian Harris, of Andalusia, was excused for cause, by the Commonwealth, after she objected to the death penalty. She said she "didn't like it."

Mrs. Catharine W. Danser, of Yardley, was the 35th juror examined and the last called before adjournment Monday afternoon and was selected as the sixth juror.

Haganah Claims Two Successful Counter-Attacks

below the Sea of Galilee, Haganah announced that Jewish forces have recaptured the settlements of Shaar Hagolan and Massada.

From Jerusalem, Jewish sources reported that Arabs failed in an attempt to advance from the Damascus gate in the Sheikh Jarrah area of northwest Jerusalem into the center of the city.

Other dispatches from the Holy City said that in the bitter war of attrition being waged there destruction threatens the greater part of Jerusalem.

Bitter house-to-house fighting is reported in progress in the modern part of the city.

Haganah reported that the Arabs for the first time yesterday employed twin-engined bombers against Arab city of Jaffa. It was said that their positions in the formerly all-Arab bombs, ironically, hit and damaged a mosque.

Three bombs also were dropped north of the Tel Aviv area in the first aerial assault in the vicinity of the provisional Israeli capital in 56 hours.

Considerable air activity by Jewish planes was announced. The communiqué said that Arab military objectives in the Majdal area, 15 miles north of Gaza, were attacked.

It claimed that Jewish planes also bombed the village of Pk, inside Syrian territory as well as the villages of Tel El Kassas and Labia.

cases "someone in the family suffers."

Before the defendant was led away, Mr. Gray made a plea that the sentence be made not less than six months nor more than 25 months so that pardon or probation would fall under the jurisdiction of the Bucks county court authorities.

"That's why I made the sentence up to three years so that he will have to comply with the Pennsylvania State Board of Pardons which has jurisdiction in his part of the State and we do not," Judge Keller ruled.

CORNWELLS MAN RESCUED
CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 25.—Raymond E. Katzmar, State road, was among those rescued when the cabin cruiser "Squirt" capsized on Saturday at Manasquan Inlet, N. J., throwing 34 persons into the water, with loss of at least two lives. The party was made up mostly of employees of the Helms Mfg. Co., Philadelphia, who planned to spend the day fishing for mackerel. Mr. Katzmar states he was caught under the boat together with an older man, when it capsized. Fighting his way out, and helping the other man who evidently had been hurt, he made his way from under the boat and held on to a portion of it with one hand, supporting the hurt man with the other. Mr. Katzmar said he must have "blacked out" for a second, and his hands were numb with cold, because suddenly he realized the man had slipped from his grasp. He states that by the time the rescue boat arrived, he was not able to help himself aboard, due to cold, weakness and cut and bruised hands. He was taken into the boat and then to the coast guard station at Manasquan Inlet Station, where they were treated for shock and cold and given dry clothes. Mr. Katzmar had difficulty extricating himself from under the boat, as a mackerel hook had caught him in the back.

which he will make at least five major speeches. President Truman sent to Congress a strong message urging the broadening of much of the base of the Social Security program. He reproved Congress for having ignored his previous recommendations in this field.

On application of the National Labor Relations Board, Justice Goldsborough ordered John L. Lewis and the miners' union to appear on June 1 and show cause why an injunction against them should not be issued. The board also urged Congress to abandon the union shop election procedure as hearings began on proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

There were two major appointments in the capital. Charles F. Brannan was named Secretary of Agriculture and Miss Frieda Henock was nominated for a seven-year term as member of the Federal Communications Commission, the first woman to be so honored.

PITCHERS BATTLE TO WIN FIRST OF A THREE-GAME SERIES

NEWTOWN, May 25 — "Dave" Muth and Horace Balderston hooked up in an old-fashioned hurling duel here yesterday afternoon as the Bristol High nine won the first game of a three-game series to determine the championship of Lower Bucks County. Council Rock was the losing team with the final score being 3-0.

Muth and Balderston both allowed four hits but Muth was more effective in the pinches and received better support. Muth fanned six and walked two. He also hit a batter. Balderston had four strikeouts and walked three.

"Ed" Teschner was the only batter to get more than one hit during the afternoon, he singling in both the first and sixth innings.

Muth had a bad first inning and barely escaped being scored upon. He walked Long and retired both Walker and Morris but Balderston also drew a pass and Teschner singled to load the bases. But Titus hit to Braam and the inning was over on a force-out.

Bristol scored a pair of runs in the second on hits by Johnny Pindar and Oliver Adams and three errors. Bristol's only marker was the result of hits by Joe Dominic and Dave Morrell and a stolen base in the sixth inning. The Warriors received three passes in the seventh and failed to score.

Coach "Sage" Sagolla's boys had two on via errors by Braam and Adams in the sixth but Balderston grounded out for the third out of the inning.

The second game of the series will be played this afternoon on the Bristol field and the third game, if necessary, will be played on the neutral Langhorne high field.

TOWNSHIP NINE WINS LOWER BUCKS TITLE

Defeating Bristol Junior High yesterday afternoon on the Bristol field, Bristol Township clinched the Lower Bucks County Junior High School League. Final score of the fracas was: Township, 4; Bristol Junior High, 1.

With nine strikeouts to his credit, Harry Eisenbrey had little trouble in subduing the Bristol batsmen who had but three hits, two of which came in the final inning. Eisenbrey hurled shutout ball after the initial frame when Bristol scored on a walk, stolen base, and an error.

Ireland, the Bristol peckman, allowed Township six hits but four of these were made in the first and fourth innings when the Township lads pushed over all their markers. Bristol did some loose playing in these innings.

Coach Ben Watson's minions threw a score into the Township rosters in the last canto when they loaded the bags after two were out. But Binkley rolled to Struble to end the contest.

Coach Joe Conturso's Township team lost but one league game during the season, winning nine.

GOODWILL WINS OVER LANGHORNE BY SCORE OF 6 TO 1

The winning streak of the Good Will Hose team reached six straight last evening as the firemen trimmed the Langhorne Legion contingent, 6-1, on the Third Ward field. The hosemen are unbeaten in the Bristol Suburban League.

"Horn" Pluma, Good Will moundsman, pitched good ball for the winners, giving up seven hits. The only run scored on him was the result of a double by Bill Keen and a three-bagger from the bat of Joe Lukens. Pluma whiffed nine batters and walked two.

The losing hurler was "Spider" Darrah. Darrah was nipped for eight hits but his wildness aided him to go down to defeat as he put six runners on the paths via base on balls. It wasn't until the final inning that Good Will really tagged the Langhorne hillman.

Joe Elmer and "Bobby" Bauroth and Joe Cahill had two hits each for Good Will, while both Dale Miller and Keen rapped out a pair of hits for the Legionnaires.

The fire-eaters will play St. Ann's tomorrow evening on the Third Ward field.

Defeating Bristol Junior High yesterday afternoon on the Bristol field, Bristol Township clinched the Lower Bucks County Junior High School League. Final score of the fracas was: Township, 4; Bristol Junior High, 1.

With nine strikeouts to his credit, Harry Eisenbrey had little trouble in subduing the Bristol batsmen who had but three hits, two of which came in the final inning. Eisenbrey hurled shutout ball after the initial frame when Bristol scored on a walk, stolen base, and an error.

Ireland, the Bristol peacock, allowed Township six hits but four of these were made in the first and fourth innings when the Township lads pushed over all their markers. Bristol did some loose playing in these innings.

Coach Ben Watson's minions threw a score into the Township rosters in the last canto when they loaded the bags after two were out. But Binkley rolled to Struble to end the contest.

Coach Joe Conturso's Township team lost but one league game during the season, winning nine.

ST. ANN'S TIGHTENS HOLD ON 2ND PLACE

St. Ann's A. A. strengthened its grip on second place in the Bristol Suburban League with a 14-8 victory over the Fifth Ward Sporting Club last evening on the Memorial Park field.

The "Saints" took advantage of the generosity of two Fifth Ward pitchers, Tony Cauti and "Smithers" Cordisco, to cop the verdict. The pair of Fifth Warders gave up a total of nine free tickets to first and these mixed with ten base hits gave St. Ann's their markers.

The Wood Streeters scored in every inning but in the second Fifth Ward hopped on "Pete" Rubino for five runs to take a 5-4 lead. However, St. Ann's registered a quintet of tallies in the third and added five more in the next two innings.

The winners had 10 safe knocks in the tilt and were led at the plate by "Sal" Pappaterra, who had two doubles and a single in three official trips to the platter. Both Barney Ludwig and "Rabbit" Palumbo had two hits each with Ludwig having a perfect night, drawing two walks on his other two appearances.

"Pete" DeLuca and "Reds" Pica had four of the Fifth Ward nine hits while "Al" Henry smashed a long triple to right field in the fourth.

St. Ann's used Rubino and Paul Cervellero on the hill while the losing team started Cauti and ended with Cordisco with the former getting the defeat.

GOODWILL WINS OVER LANGHORNE BY SCORE OF 6 TO 1

The winning streak of the Good Will Hose team reached six straight last evening as the firemen trimmed the Langhorne Legion contingent, 6-1, on the Third Ward field. The hosemen are unbeaten in the Bristol Suburban League.

"Hern" Piuma, Good Will moundsman, pitched good ball for the winners, giving up seven hits. The only run scored on him was the result of a double by Bill Keen and a three-bagger from the bat of Joe Lukens. Piuma whiffed nine batters and walked two.

The losing hurler was "Spider" Darrah. Darrah was nicked for eight hits but his wildness aided him to go down to defeat as he put six runners on the paths via base on balls. It wasn't until the final inning that Good Will really tagged the Langhorne hillman.

Joe Elmer and "Bobby" Bauroth and Joe Cahill had two hits each for Good Will, while both Dale Miller and Keen rapped out a pair of hits for the Legionnaires.

The fire-eaters will play St. Ann's tomorrow evening on the Third Ward field.
